Altar Servers

Recommended Resource:  Serve God With Gladness: A Manual for Servers by David Philippart

II. Prayer:  Prayer Before Serving  (Handout A)

III. Presentation I:  Briefly answer the following questions:

Who is an Altar Server?
The Altar Server is a boy or girl, a woman or man who is trained to help at the Mass so that it can be celebrated with grace and reverence. An Altar Server is a member of the Church who participates in the celebration with the understanding that they are leaders of the assembly.

What does an Altar Server do?
An Altar Server assists the priest and deacon during the Mass and other religious ceremonies.
There are special responsibilities for serving. The Server is also an example to the assembly by joining in the singing, praying and keeping silence during the Mass.

Why should an Altar Server step forward to assist at Mass?
A person steps forward to serve at Mass because God moves the heart, inspires the mind and calls the person to this ministry. God invites generous and helpful people to serve at Mass so that it can be a reverent and prayerful celebration for all who come to worship. Without a server, it would be difficult for the priest and deacon to do the many duties of leading prayers and rituals.

What must an Altar Server learn in order to serve at Mass?
2. Identification and purpose of religious items used at Mass: Liturgical Books, Furniture, Vessels, Vestments and Articles.

LITURGICAL FURNITURE

“Baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.” Mt. 28:19
The baptismal font is a container of flowing water. The font should be stationary, well constructed, of splendid beauty and spotless cleanliness. It is most desirable to have running water. The Paschal Candle is placed near the font during the season of Eastertime.

The Chair (sedilia, seat for the clergy)

A noble chair of the priest placed in a clear, prominent and visible position.

The Ambo (lectern, podium, pulpit, reader’s stand)
“Jesus went into the synagogue, according to his custom on the Sabbath Day, and he rose up to read.” Luke 4:17
The ambo is a standing desk for proclamation of the Word and preaching. The ambo has a designated space in the sanctuary and is visible to all the assembly.

The Altar (table, place of sacrifice)
The altar, a holy table for the Lord’s Supper and a table of sacrifice, is the primary symbol of Christ. The altar needs to be strong enough to hold the mystery of sacrifice and the celebration of a common meal. Only the gifts of bread and wine, the vessels for Communion and the sacramentary are placed on the altar. (Candles may be placed on the Altar if no floor-standing ones are available.)

SUPPLIES

The boat is a small vessel which holds the incense to be used in the censer.

Corporal
An additional small altar cloth spread under the Eucharistic vessels. One understanding of the corporal was the containment of Eucharistic crumbs. The corporal also protects the more permanent altar cover from stains.

Cruets
Vessels for the water and wine to be used at Mass. Carafes, decanters or flagons are more commonly used for the presentation of wine with a large assembly.

Chasuble

Ministerial Robes
Special long vestments used by Eucharistic ministers, lectors, acolytes, choir members, etc.

Alb – the long white robe used in liturgical ceremonies. It signifies the white robe of Baptism.

Cassock – The long, outer, traditional gown, which may be black, white, or red.

Surplice – A white linen, cotton or synthetic-fiber traditional garment with wide sleeves that reaches slightly below the hips and is worn over the cassock.

Stole
The stole, a symbol of the liturgical leadership of the bishop, priests and deacons, is a long band, worn about the neck by bishops and priests and over the left shoulder by deacons. Its color is in accordance with the liturgical season or feast.
Postures and Gestures at Prayer

STANDING is an active, engaged posture that manifests respect and shows great attention to what is taking place. It also denotes readiness for praise and service.

KNEELING signified penance in the early Church. In the Middle Ages kneeling came to signify homage. More recently the posture signifies adoration.

SITTING is a posture of repose, of listening and of meditation.

BOWING signifies reverence and honor shown to the persons themselves or to the signs that represent them. There are two kinds of bows.

A simple bow of the head is used when saying the name of Jesus. It is the chosen sign of reverence before receiving the Body and Blood.

A profound bow of the body, bending from the waist, is made to the altar during the opening and closing processions and during the Creed. Outside of Mass, it is appropriate to make a profound bow to the altar which represents Christ.

WALKING
Walk with your back straight and your head held high. Walk at a slower pace than ordinary and with a reverent and prayerful manner.

PROCESSIONS have been a part of liturgy since the early centuries of the Church. This movement demands involvement of one’s total being, particularly as the assembly approaches the altar to receive Communion.

GENUFLECTING signifies adoration and is reserved for the Most Blessed Sacrament, as well as for the Holy Cross on Good Friday. If there is a tabernacle in the sanctuary, the priest and others in the procession genuflect when they approach the altar and when they leave the sanctuary. The priest genuflects three times during Mass: after elevating the host, after elevating the chalice and before Communion.

HANDS
Unless you are sitting down or carrying something (like a candle), your hands should be kept joined in front of your chest: either locked together, or palm to palm, fingers pointing upward. If you are carrying something in one hand, hold the other hand flat on your chest.

EYES
During Mass, always look towards the place where the action is happening; the priest’s chair, the lectern, or the altar. When the reader is reading the Scriptures, you should be looking at the reader. When you talk to someone, you want that person to look at you, right? The same is true at Mass. Look at the priest and the other ministers as they speak and act in the sanctuary, and even look at the people in the pews. This tells the other people in church that you know they are there.

GENERAL APPEARANCE
Know what you are to do while serving Mass and when you are to do it. Think ahead to your next task. Don’t be afraid to smile as you serve Mass. Be relaxed and comfortable. Be yourself. Remember to listen, sing, and pray with the other people who have gathered to worship God. Remember what an important service you are giving to God and God’s people, and do your best.
